

THE STATE UNIVERSITY
OF NEW YORK

DISTINGUISHED ACADEMY

presents

DIVERSITY, SOCIAL JUSTICE, CRITICAL RACE THEORY AND THE ACADEMY

The prevailing national discourse over Critical Race Theory (CRT), dealing with race as a major category in the Americana polity, and how to accurately discuss race in education has divided America. The recent wave of actions by state legislatures around the country has resulted in limitations being placed on academic freedom in teaching race and social justice. These constraints on research and intellectual activity make this webinar even more urgent and crucial. Participants in this webinar will gain a better understanding of CRT, intersectionality, and the agency of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice in society.

Thursday, April 28, 2022
3:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Register Here

MODERATOR

Valerie P. Dent
Deputy Chief Operating Officer and Interim Chief Diversity Officer
SUNY System Administration

PANELISTS

Dr. Gretchen Sullivan Sorin
Distinguished Service Professor and Director of the Cooperstown Graduate Program
SUNY Oneonta

Professor Seth N. Asumah
SUNY Distinguished Teaching Professor,
Founding Chair and Professor of Africana
Studies, and Professor of Political Science
SUNY Cortland